All-University Senate Filing Deadline Monday

Four Senators To Be Elected May 29

Several students have taken out petitions of candidacy for the new All-University Student Senate, according to Election Commissioner Tom Castor, but as of yesterday no petitions had been filed.

The special election to select the four Carbondale Campus representatives to the new body will be held next Wednesday. Castor said the deadline for candidates to file petitions is 5 p.m. next Monday.

Blank petitions may be obtained at the Student Government Office or the University Center Information Desk.

Candidates for the positions must be full-time students in good standing with the University and must have at least a 3.5 scholastic average. They cannot hold elected office in any other University student organization.

The Edwardsville Campus will also select four members to the All-University Student Senate. Representatives will serve for one year.

While not a part of the existing student governments at either campus, the Senate will operate to improve inter-campus communication and cooperation.

Its two major functions will be to serve as an advisory board to the administration in questions of University policy which directly involve the student body as a whole, and to act as a reviewing board for actions of existing student organizations in areas of policy of the student body. Plans for the formation of the All-University Student Senate resulted from discussion at the joint retreat of the Carbondale, Alton and East St. Louis student councils this spring.

Greeks To Start Deferred Rush Fall Term Of '63

Deferred rush, which requires each rushee to have at least 12 quarter hours, will go into effect in Fall Quarter of 1963.

This ruling, which was released by the Housing Office, is intended to keep all affiliated freshmen from living in Small Group Housing.

Those who begin school this summer, will not be able to move into the house until the following fall term. In this case, that will be fall of 1964.

The new ruling was passed in conjunction with the one which was passed winter term which nullified the rule stating that each group was required to keep at least 18 per cent freshmen in the house. This was done according to Housing Office authorities to make the fraternities and sororities fill the houses with their members each year.

Kennedy's Sister To Be Here Today

Eunice Shriver, sister of President Kennedy, is expected to arrive here today to take part in the Institute for Directors and Staff of Day Camps for the Mentally Retarded now underway at the Little Grassy Campus.

She will remain through Saturday.

Her husband, Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps, will attend the SIU institute sessions on Thursday. Both previously had planned to be here on Monday, May 20.

Mrs. Shriver is vice president of the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation, which is helping finance day camps for the mentally retarded in eight states, including Illinois. These camps will be set up by the trainees from the Little Grassy Institute.

Only One Seeks Senator's Job

Terry Cook, sophomore from Waukegan, is the only student on the ballot in the special election for out-in-town senator today.

Tom Castor, election commissioner, said the polls will be in front of Old Main.

Officials said although there is only one name on the ballot, there may be some write-in candidates.

State Senate Approves More Schools For SIU

The Illinois Senate passed a bill Tuesday to permit Southern Illinois University to offer courses in law, medicine, dentistry and pharmacy.

The measure, authored by Sen. Dwight Friedrich, R-Centralia, was sent to the House on a 54-0 vote.

Under the bill, SIU would need approval of the State Board of Higher Education before it could offer the new courses.

SIU-City Officials To Talk About Expansion

President Delyte W. Morris said he has arranged a meeting for Friday with Carbondale City officials to discuss University expansion plans.

The group, headed by Mayor D. Blaney Miller, will continue a discussion started at an April 26 session with the SIU Board of Trustees. City officials are seeking clarification of the University's plans to expand into two portions of Carbondale.

Following the meeting with the University trustees, last month, Miller and other city officials asked that the discussions continue.

The meeting Friday will be

'Teahouse Of August Moon' Opens Fall Drama Season

Five plays, ranging from John Patrick's "Teahouse of the August Moon" to Shakespeare's "Richard III" will be presented by the Southern Players during the 1963-64 season.

"Teahouse" opens the season on October 18. "The Would-Be Gentleman" by Moliere will open November 22; Bertolt Brecht's "Good Woman of Setzuan" opens February 7; "The Birthday Party" by Harold Pinter will begin its run April 10; and "Richard III" will close out the season starting May 15.

Regular season tickets will not go on sale until September 16, a Theater Department spokesman said. Season ticket booklets represent a 50 per cent savings in total ticket costs, he added.

Season tickets are now on sale for the International Playbill which will be presented this summer by a stock company made up of students from all over the United States.

The summer season opens June 26 with Molnar's "Guardians."

because this section was zoned for multiple housing development.

Miller said the city may request another meeting with the SIU Board.

Several builders and private investors have announced plans to construct dormitories in the area, including Rep. Gale Williams, R-Murphysboro. All have been critical of the University's plans because the expansion includes their property.

Williams' dorm will be a 22-room building, part of a planned development estimated to cost $1.25 million.

George Thiem, Chicago Daily News reporter, is in town this week looking into both sides of the question, he told an Egyptian staff member Monday.

One private builder reported earlier that the University said there is a possibility it might buy the private-constructed dorms built in the area.

He said he came at the invitation of Carbondale business leaders who suggested he do a story on the situation.

The next meeting of the SIU Board of Trustees is scheduled for May 28.

Service, for a comparative study of sawmill operators in the southern 16 counties of Illinois.

The project is supplemental to cooperative forestry research agreements between SIU and the U.S. Forest Service.

Somberg says the study will be concerned with discovering, analyzing and comparing the objectives and characteristics of sawmill operators who cut timber from their own forest land with those of operators who do not own timber land but buy stumpage to keep mills in operation. He will have the help of a graduate student in forestry in gathering information.

A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., Somberg came to Southern last year from Durham, North Carolina, where he completed work for his doctorate at Duke University. Previously he had spent 14 years as a consulting forester in the United States, Central and South America. Mrs. Somberg is a native of Manning, S. Carolina.

Art Faculty Shows Its Work At Mitchell

More than a hundred pieces of art—paintings, sculptures, jewelry and silversmithing, weaving, prints, drawings and carvings—produced during the past two years by 13 faculty members in the Art Department are on exhibit in the Mitchell Gallery in the Home Economics Building.

The show will remain until June 10, according to Ben Watkins, acting curator. All of the work is being shown here for the first time.

The current exhibit, according to Watkins, represents a greater variety of media and approaches than any previous faculty exhibits.

Three artists new on the faculty, are making their first appearance in an SIU faculty exhibit: Lawrence Bernstein, who spent several years in Japan before joining the SIU staff last September; Bruce White, art educator in University School; and Judith Hall, who teaches in the University's new General Studies Program and in art education.

Bernstein is represented by four drawings, several paintings and a number of large collages, one of which is marked by the introduction of a cluster of beads and glittering bits of jewelry. In another the paint is worked over a lace tablecloth. White is showing four sculptures and several paintings and drawings, while Mrs. Hall is displaying an abstract painting and a nude drawing.

A collection of some two dozen pieces of gold and silver jewelry and other silversmithing objects are shown by Louis Brent Kingston, lecturer. A child's candlestick in totem pole motif is worked in sterling silver, as is a child's pull-toy that actually rolls on its tiny silver wheels. Thelma Mathis, secretary in the art department, contributed a large abstract oil and a small still life in oil to the exhibits.

Other artists included in the show are: Herbert Fink, professor and Art Department Chairman—seven etchings.

Alice Schwartz, assistant professor—an abstract painting and two collages.

Claribel McDaniell, lecturer—five tapestries.

Harvey Harris, associate professor—three large paintings and two collages.

Milton Sullivan, assistant professor—four sculptures, one in walnut, one sandstone, one marble and another wood piece in totem form.

William Stewart, assistant professor—two sculptures, "Torso" and a small composition in metal.

Bruce Breland, associate professor—three welded metal sculptures and two paintings.

Watkins, assistant professor—a landscape in oils, "Giant City," a scene from Giant City State Park near Carbondale.

Nicholas Vergette, assistant professor—four large ceramic relief sculptures; a standing figure and a head, both abstract, and an abstract bronze. The reliefs are aged and bear titles of cities of antiquity such as "Corinth."

The gallery is open from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays and from 2 to 6 p.m. Sundays, Watkins said. Most of the works being shown in the faculty exhibit are for sale, he said.

Agriculture Honorary Initiates 11 Students

Eleven agriculture students recently were initiated into Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity, according to Chancellor Donald Robinson.

The 11 are: Lawrence Chamness, Albert Czajkowski, Darrell Dillow, Kern Doerner, Sherrill Echternkamp, Ronald Hay, Bennie Hill, Paul Murphy, Gene Perkins, Kenneth Runyon and Richard Thatcher.

Alpha Zeta, founded in 1897 at Ohio State University, selects student members from undergraduate and graduate agricultural students of high scholarship on basis of character, leadership and personality. Illinois Beta chapter at SIU was organized in 1960.

Alpha Zeta's objectives are to promote agriculture as a profession; to establish, foster and develop high standards of scholarship, character leadership and a spirit of fellowship among all its members; to create and bond together a body of outstanding technical men who by scholarly attainment, faithful service and maintenance of ethical ideals and principles have achieved distinction and are capable of honoring achievement in others, according to Chronicler Ralph Schmoll.

Associated Press News Roundup:

Reapportionment Amendment Defeated

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.

Illinois House Democrats defeated a Republican attempt to amend a bill to reapportion House districts, dimming still further hopes of an early settlement on the thorny political issue.

A GOP amendment to enable Southern Illinois to retain six of its seven districts mustered only 77 of the necessary 89 votes, despite charges that Southern Illinois was being asked to give up too much representation.

"God help you when you try to explain this back home in Southern Illinois," declared Rep. Joseph Hale, R-Shawneetown, who favored the amendment.

Rep. Paul Powell of Vienna, Democratic minority leader, said he opposed the amendment because Southern Illinois has lost population and restricting must be done on a population basis.

WASHINGTON

The Soviet Union has proposed to the United States that nuclear weapons be banned from the Mediterranean Sea, diplomatic authorities reported Tuesday. U.S. officials regard the move as propaganda.

The proposal purported to be aimed at obtaining the withdrawal of U.S. Polaris submarines from the Mediterranean. But the timing suggested to Washington officials that the Soviet government was trying to stir up some new trouble over the nuclear arming of North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries.

The 15-national NATO Council is meeting in Ottawa, Canada, this week with the organization of a nuclear command structure as the outstanding issue. Involved are three U.S. nuclear submarines stationed in the Mediterranean and assigned to NATO.

NASHVILLE, Tenn.

Four more persons, including an official of the International Longshoremen's Association, were indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday on charges of trying to tamper with jurors in the conspiracy trial of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa last year.

Hoffa and six others were indicted May 9 on similar charges. Hoffa was not charged in the new indictments.

The three indictments returned yesterday accused the four defendants with trying to bribe or corruptly influence two jurors and at least 10 prospective jurors.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.

Federal Judge H. Hobart Grooms refused to delay the admission of two Negroes to the University of Alabama despite arguments that racial unrest might result in violence on the campus.

"I take judicial notice of the condition that exists in this state," Grooms said. "But the governor has said he will maintain order in this state. I think that granting of the motion would be tantamount to saying law and order has broken down."

Three On History Faculty To Take Leaves For Research

Three SIU members of the history faculty will take leave of absences this summer in order to delve into studies of various other aspects of history.

Both Betty L. Fladeland and L. R. Shelby, assistant professors in history, are planning to journey to England to conduct their studies under grants presented to them by the American Philosophical Society.

Harry Ammon, associate professor of history, plans to conduct a study and gather material for a biography of the late President Monroe.

Miss Fladeland will be working on a paper concerning the relationship between British and American anti-slavery movements, while Shelby plans to devote his time to studying the aspects of medieval architecture. By studying the master masons of medieval England he hopes to determine how the cathedrals and castles of the middle ages were constructed.

Student Injured In One-Car Crash

An SIU student, Llewellyn Girmscheid of Chicago, was seriously injured in a one-car accident near Tamms early Sunday.

Girmscheid, one of three persons injured in the wreck, suffered three broken ribs and internal injuries. The other two were non-students. All three were admitted to St. Mary's Hospital in Cairo.

The car, which had been borrowed from another student, was a total loss, authorities said.

Coed Stays Out, To Withdraw

A freshman coed who stayed at a male student's apartment after women's late hours last week has been asked to withdraw from the University, according to Mrs. Loretta Ott, assistant dean of student affairs.

The male student, a 20-year-old sophomore, was reprimanded by disciplinary officials for entertaining a woman in his apartment and lost his motor vehicle privileges through his junior year. He lived in an out-of-town apartment, officials said.

Mrs. Ott said the University rule violated by the coed was being away from her living quarters overnight without permission.

Heifer Project Feeds Hungry, Educates Masses, Director Says

Answering the cries of the hungry, lending a helping hand to the struggling farmer, helping educate the masses, and aiding in the construction of a ladder of faith in the future are the duties of the Heifer Project Peace Corp worker.

"Meeting the nutritional needs of people by supplying assistance which meets the immediate problem of hunger and malnutrition...but yet has the long range potential for supplying food requirements for the months and years to come, is the purpose of the Heifer Project Peace Corps Program," according to George H. Norris, director. Norris arrived on campus yesterday and will remain here today answering questions and recruiting students for the agriculture team.

The Heifer Project has been in existence for 20 years. During the Spanish Civil War, Dan West a Brethren relief worker, was in Spain. For days he portioned out a drink made from dried milk and water to orphans and mothers with infants. He soon realized the real solution to the food problem was to bring in cows that would provide food for the babies, fertilizer for the crops, and be a method of building faith in the future.

He returned to America and his idea became a reality. In 1944 the first load of heifers was shipped to Puerto Rico.

"Heifer Project is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization financed by voluntary contributions," reported Norris. Protestant, Catholic and

German Teachers Here For Summer

Forty high school and junior high school teachers of German from 16 states have been accepted for a National Defense Education Act summer at SIU.

Director Helmut Liedloff, assistant professor of foreign languages at Southern, said the core of the program will consist of daily lectures in German to acquaint participants with Germanic cultures. The institute will be the third of its kind at SIU.

Liedloff said several teachers selected are from such distant states as California, Arizona, Nevada, Pennsylvania, New York, Minnesota and Texas.

Illinois teachers selected are Elizabeth Klein, Harrisburg; Gertrude Pfeil, Ottawa; Joseph L. Scott, Metropolis; Barbara Spence, Mill Shoals; and Richard C. Treadway, Berwyn.

Pedestrians Get Signs For Safety

Some of the anxiety involved in crossing Campus Drive has been relieved thanks to the addition of "Stop for Pedestrian" signs.

According to John Carlisle, head resident of Thompson Point, the new pedestrian signs are effective from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The signs require that drivers must stop anytime there is a pedestrian using the Campus Drive crosswalks between Thompson Point and the Agriculture Building.

The 11 Thompson Point residence halls for SIU students were built between 1956 and 1962 at a cost of $7,581,333.

Jewish organizations contribute to Heifer Project, plus many national organizations such as Agriculture Mission, Church World Service, Kiwanis, and Rotary.

The first agriculture Peace Corp team was sent to the Isle of St. Lucia in the Caribbean. Being successful, teams were assigned to areas in Bolivia and Ecuador. At present the program is being expanded by adding 100 volunteers to the Ecuador area.

Students now enrolling in the Heifer Project will receive approximately two and a half months training beginning June 15, at the University of Montana.

Following this training program recruits will undergo a two week training program in another country. "At present this country has not been decided. The training program will conclude with a ten day instruction period in Ecuador," said Norris.

The lecture is open to the public.

16 Biology Teachers Awarded NSF Grants For Special Course

Sixteen biology teachers, selected on the basis of experience and training, have been awarded National Science Foundation grants for a special course at SIU.

They will work on a pilot study while attending the 1963 summer institute for biology teachers.

Southern was one of the universities selected to test a new-concept biology course developed by the American Institute of Biological Sciences.

Isaac L. Schechmeister, associate professor of microbiology, said three new approaches in subject matter and teaching methods have been prepared by the curriculum study section of the institute.

Southern will teach the "cellular" concept. Last summer SIU participated in an evaluation of this version.

Schechmeister, director of institute, said the special course will run eight weeks, June 16-Aug. 9, and involve class work in chemistry, genetics and microbiology.

HOW TO SEE EUROPE FOR ONLY $300 A DAY: NO. 3

When all you go to Europe during your summer vacation, you will certainly want to visit Spain, where the tall corn grows.

The first thing you will notice upon entering Spain is the absence of sibilants. In Spain "s" is pronounced "th" and thereby hangs a tale. Until the reign of Philip IV—or Guy Fawkes, as he was sometimes called—Spaniards said "s" just like everybody else. Philip IV, however, lisped, and Spaniards, having an ingrained sense of propriety and not wishing to embarrass their monarch, decided that everybody should lisp. This did indeed put Philip IV very much at his ease, but in the end it turned out to be a very bad thing for Spain. It wrecked the saffron industry—Spain's principal source of revenue—and reduced the nation to a second-class power.

...to keep body and soul together

As a result, Spaniards were all forced to turn to bull fighting in order to keep body and soul together. Today, wherever you go in Spain—in Madrid, in Barcelona, in Toledo, in Cleveland—you will see bulls being fought. For many years the bulls have sought to arbitrate this long-standing dispute, but the Spaniards, a proud people who use nothing but Castile soap, have rejected all overtures.

It is therefore necessary for me to explain bull fighting to anyone who is going to Spain. It is also necessary for me to say a few words about Marlboro Cigarettes because they pay me for writing this column, and they are inclined to pout if I ignore their product. In truth, it is no chore for me to sing the praises of Marlboro Cigarettes, for I am one who fairly swoons with delight when I come upon a cigarette which gives you the full, rich taste of good tobaccos plus the pure white Selectrate filter, and Marlboro is the only smoke I have found that fulfills both requirements. Oh, what a piece of work is Marlboro! The flavor reaches you without stint or diminution. You, even as I, will find these statements to be happily true when once you light a Marlboro. Marlboros come to you in soft pack or Flip-Top box, and are made only by the makers of Marlboro.

But I digress. Let us return to bull fighting. Bulls are by nature bellicose creatures who will keep fighting till the cows come home. Then they like to put on pipe and slippers and listen to the "Farm and Home Hour." However, the Spaniards will not allow the bulls any succor. They keep attacking the bull and making veronices—a corn meal pancake filled with ground meat. Bulls, being vegetarians, reject the veronices and then, believe you me, the fur starts to fly!

To be perfectly honest, many Spaniards have grown weary of this incessant struggle and have left their homeland. Columbus, for example, took off in three little ships—the Patti, the Maxene, and the Laverne—and discovered Ohio. Magellan later discovered Columbus. Balboa also sailed to the New World, but he was silent on a peak in Darien, so it is difficult to know what he discovered.

Well sir, I guess that's all you need to know about Spain. So now, as the setting sun casts its rosy fingers over El Greco, let us take our reluctant leave of Spain—or Perfidious Albion, as it is jocularly called. Aloha, Spain or Perfidious Albion, adieu!

© 1963 Max Shuman

Let us not, however, take our leave of smoking pleasure. Let us keep enjoying those fine Marlboro Cigarettes—rich, golden tobacco—pure white Selectrate filter—soft pack or Flip-Top box—available in all fifty States of the Union.

Housing Regulations: The University

As quietly as possible, a committee of university officials, students and house-holders has, for the past several months, been working to develop a new and stronger set of student housing regulations.

An analysis of the regulations as recently approved, must include three major points of view. They are the university's, the householder's and the student's. In a series of three editorials, the Daily Egyptian will present each.

What brought the change in conditions enabling revised regulations?

The part off-campus housing has played at SIU has enabled many more students to attend the university than would otherwise have been possible. Approximately three-fourths of the student body lives off campus, in spite of the university's rapid dormitory building pace. Plans for the future call for half of the student body to be housed off the campus.

Up with the rising demand for off-campus rooms has gone the supply. The percentage of low-quality facilities has also risen. However, the housing pinch has shown signs of easing, putting the university in a position of being able to bring about an up-grading.

The delicate problem the university faced was in determining a method which would assure the attainment of the minimum conditions set forth. It was seen that by being able to withhold householder's business, poor quality housing would be eliminated or improved. The new regulations then, are also a weapon. Unless house-holders make adequate facilities available, as defined by the university, students will be forbidden to live there.

But before criticising the means the university will use to make proper housing available, one must mention the end result of the action. As the driving force bringing about a clean-up of Carbondale student housing, the university is performing a service to the community.

The regulations can be expected to bring about subtle, if not profound, changes in the face of off-campus housing at Southern, both from the standpoint of the householder and the student.

Erik Stotttrup

Letter To The Editor:

University Students Should Have Right To Make Own Decisions On Housing

According to the article on new off-campus housing regulations in the Egyptian of May 15, 1963, this University will attempt to "bottlefeed" its undergraduate students next year. In the article was stated: "No single undergraduate student may live in unsupervised housing without the permission of the Housing Office."

It seems to me most students should be mature enough to be able to live in housing without supervision. What concern is of the University what students do while off campus? The choice belongs to the students whether or not they want to use this chance to acquire an education. They should also have the right to choose where they want to live. If there are students requiring "bottlefeeding," let them be sent home to mother who is much better equipped to perform the chore.

Kennedy Still 'Interpreting'

What's best for the economy right now?

The answer to this, now or any other time, it appears, is just what President Kennedy proposes. At least that's the way it is in Washington.

For example, only a few weeks ago, everyone in the administration, from the President on down, was warning that the nation could expect its fifth post-war recession in the not-too-distant future unless the tax program of the New Frontier was enacted immediately.

The American people were told over and over again that it would be economically dangerous to cut federal spending or forego tax cuts in a time of persistent unemployment. They were led to believe that only the speedy adoption of President Kennedy's program could prevent serious economic trouble.

Congress Doesn't Buy It

But Congress refused to be stampeded. The President's tax program was introduced in the House and referred to the ways and means committee for hearings and study. And, at this writing, it remains in the House committee, where all the facets of ramifications of the President's program are being given careful attention.

Meantime, back on the economic front, things were undergoing a change. The picture began to brighten. The nation's economic indicators began to point upward, the stock market showed signs of turning bullish, the number of new jobs increased, and personal income hit a new high.

In fact, things have reached a point where the administration's economic advisers have begun to talk about a "Kennedy prosperity." This might have some validity, if it weren't for the fact that the economic upturn began despite administration predictions of recession and a generally unfriendly attitude toward business—and if it weren't for the fact that it began without any help from a Kennedy tax program.

Of course, there can be no doubt that the Kennedy tax program came into existence as a course of action the White House decided was needed to pull the nation out of the economic doldrums. But now that the nation has started to climb on its own—without the benefit of the Kennedy program—there is no lessening in the official demand for its enactment.

For example, Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon told the United States Chamber of Commerce during its annual meeting in Washington that it would have been "unrealistic" four or five months ago to expect conditions to be "so favorable" for a tax cut.

Hold to Original Demands

In other words, no matter what the state of the economy, no matter whether we are faced with the prospect of a fifth post-war recession, no matter whether the state of the economy shows marked improvement, the administration still insists on new tax cuts, greater spending, and heavy deficits.

The administration still holds to its old worn-out thesis that more money must be put into circulation so that consumers will have more to spend and the demand for American products will increase.

Letter To The Editor:

Graham Calls For Resignation Of Newly Elected Student President Dick Moore

Dick Moore's role in the production and distribution of the anonymous handbill "Plain Facts and Common Sense" was improper and a disgrace to the Student Body. In all fairness to the Student Body, Dick Moore should resign as Student Body President.

Moore's actions can reasonably be interpreted to fall under the rules cited in my earlier letter (i. e. destructive group action, harmful to the University and/or students; and a dishonest practice) and according to University rules be subject to disciplinary action.

However, on examination, these laws cited are bad laws since they are moral principles and as such vague, general and subject to varying interpretation. One could conceivably enter in good faith into an action later evaluated as bad. To preserve due process, sanctions ought only to apply to explicit regulations which would be implementations and interpretations of the moral principles stated as ideals.

I cannot therefore request that Mr. Moore be subjected to disciplinary action citing that he had violated these laws which are bad, but must request that the laws be changed so that no moral principles are supported by sanctions and explicit rules are enacted which do have sanctions. The elections commission ought to suggest a set of campaign rules which will protect the integrity of the election and insure that acts of the calibre of Mr. Moore's are in the future speedily punished.

Baseball Team Plays Final Home Game Today

Face Evansville College On Chautauqua Field

SIU's baseball team winds up its home season today against Evansville College in a game scheduled to begin at three o'clock at the Chautauqua field.

Glenn Martin's SIU Salukis will be shooting for their fourth victory in a row. Southern has beaten Arkansas State twice and Evansville since losing 7-6 to Tulsa.

Dave Leonard will be completing his collegiate career at home this afternoon against Evansville. He would like nothing better than to have a perfect day at the plate.

Against Evansville last week he went hitless in six times at bat so he will be trying to regain the batting form which has carried him to a .300 plus batting average.

Last week SIU routed Evansville with a 14-1 victory behind the hitting of Jerry

Saluki Sprinters To Compete In California Relays

SIU will be competing this weekend in the California Relays which is by invitation only. The California Relays are held at Modesto, Calif. and attracts some of the nation's top athletes.

Coach Lew Hartzog's sprint medley team of Jim Stewart, Al Pulliam, Ed Houston and Bill Cornell has been invited by meet director Tom Moore. The Salukis 3:18.7 winning time in the event at the Drake Relays now is second in the U.S.

Southern California holds the fastest time now with a 3:18 clocking. The Southern California Trojans have been invited to compete in the Relays.

Hartzog plans to hold run-offs this weekend to determine which four guys will run in the meet. Bob Green will be trying to beat out Pulliam for the spot on the relay.

Jim Dupree has been invited by the relay committee to compete in the half mile run.

Stewart will run in the 100-yard dash and Green will enter the 120-yard high hurdles if he makes the relay team otherwise he will not run.

Baseball Team Won't Play In NCAA Tourney

SIU turned down an invitation to play in the NCAA College-Division baseball tournament at Arkansas State this week because of scheduling difficulties.

The tournament begins Thursday and runs through Saturday but the Salukis are scheduled to play Cincinnati Saturday a double-header in Ohio.

"Rather than ruin relations with Cincinnati I decided after talking with department officials to turn down the invitation," Glenn Martin said Tuesday morning.

SIU freshmen could not have played in the tournament anyway because of NCAA rules. The NCAA organization forbids freshmen to play in post-season tournaments. This means Ed Walter, Gene Vincent, Bob Bernstein would not have been able to play.

Qualls and the three-hit pitching of Ed Walter.

Qualls collected five hits in five times at bat in the game including two home runs. He drove in six runs with the five hits.

He continues to lead the Salukis in hitting with a .421 batting average. He has 32 hits in 76 times at the plate for the average. Six doubles and five home runs are included in his hit total.

Qualls has hit safely in 11 of the last 12 games for the Salukis.

Gene Vincent probably will be the starting pitcher this afternoon for SIU. Vincent has a 3-0 record for the season.

He has pitched three complete games and has appeared in 31 1/3 innings. In the innings pitched he has allowed 11 earned runs and 23 hits. He has struck out 39 opposing hitters and walked only 14.

SIU played yesterday afternoon at Southeast Missouri and the results were not available at press time. The game was rescheduled from the rained-out game of April. Doug Edwards was the starting pitcher for the Salukis.

Martin is "well-pleased" with the results of the season so far but is a little worried about the next three games.

SIU Trackmen

Run Faster Than Big Eight Winners

George Woods, Bob Green and Jim Stewart would have won events in the Big Eight conference meet Saturday on the basis of their performances here.

Woods would have won the shot put event at the Big Ten meet too with his toss of 58 feet 9 1/4 inches. The winning toss at the Big Eight by Yul Yost of Kansas was 58-6 1/2. The Big Ten winning mark was 56-6 3/4.

Green's winning time of :14.1 seconds in the 120-yard high hurdles would also have taken first places in both the Big Ten and Big Eight conference marks. The Big Ten first place time was :14.3 and the Big Eight time was :14.4.

Stewart's first place time of :9.6 in the 100-yard dash would have tied for first place at the Big Eight and would have taken third place at the Big Ten meet which was won by Nate Adams with a :9.3 time. Adams, however, was aided by excessive wind.

Brian Turner's 4:05.3 time in the mile would have taken third place at the Big Eight meet and would have won the Big Ten mile run.

Netmen Face Irish Saturday

In its final appearance of the season prior to participating in the NCAA championship meet next month, SIU's tennis team will challenge Notre Dame Saturday afternoon at South Bend, Ind.

The Salukis, who won their first 13 matches of the year before losing to Big Ten champion Northwestern, already, own one victory over the Fighting Irish this spring, having gained a 9-0 decision here in the season's opener.

CAPTAIN, DAVE LEONARD, WINDS UP CAREER

Power House Quintet Leads Tuesday IM Bowling League

The Power House quintet took over the lead in the Tuesday night division of the SIU intramural bowling league by registering a clean sweep over the erstwhile leading the Advisory Staff.

Rich Bryles sparked the new leaders attack with a 625 series and was supported by Ken Friess' 562 total. John Engel's 573 kept Star Lanes on the victory path with a 3-1 win over varsity track. Dave Breckinridge's 596 total enabled the varsity track to salvage the nightcap.

The Alkies moved into the top spot of the six o'clock Thursday league with a sweep at the expense of the Pin Twisters. Merle Sapp led both teams with a 573 series.

The cellar-dwelling 16-A Club scored the upset of the week by blanking the first place Century Series quintet.

The Washouts of the nine o'clock Thursday league rolled into sole possession of first place with a 3-1 victory over the Southern Illusions while the Knockers and Mason-Dixon rolled to a draw with two victories each.

In the nine o'clock Wednesday "A" League the pace setting Nite Warriors maintained a two-point lead despite a 3-1 loss to the Wifebeaters.

The runnerup Freeman Five also received a 3-1 drubbing.

The Felts Second of the nine o'clock Wednesday "B" League held its grip on first place by taking a split decision from Mason-Dixon.

In the six o'clock Wednesday edition of the intramural league the romping Power House five increased their lead to five points by taking four points from Kript Kicker with Bill Muchelmann's 571 providing the impetus for the front runners.

Belleville Prep Basketball Star To Enroll Here

Jack Hartman, SIU basketball coach, said that Dave Renn, all-state basketball player from Belleville, will enroll here in the fall.

Renn joins Ralph Johnson of Trenton as the first boys to indicate they will enroll at Southern. Johnson is 6-7 and averaged 25 points a game. Renn averaged 23 points a game for Belleville.

Food Thief Suspended

A 19-year-old freshman from Chicago has been placed on disciplinary probation through the fall quarter for pocketing two sandwiches at the Oasis in the University Center and attempting to go through the line without paying for them.

Ashby Given $18,900 Plant Study Grant

William C. Ashby, associate professor of botany, has received an $18,900 grant from the National Science Foundation to finance a two-year study of the effects of moisture conditions on plants.

Ashby said he plans to apply in a large-scale field study many of the techniques developed by other botanists in laboratory and greenhouse projects. He said findings could have significant bearing on forestry planting.

Most of the study will be conducted at SIU's Pine Hills Field Station near Wolf Lake, about 40 miles from Carbondale. Ashby said the 258-acre tract and surrounding Shawnee National Forest provide the diversity of terrain and plant life needed for the project.

The SIU botanist said his study may challenge and possibly alter widespread assumptions. "I believe it will largely bear out the assumption that moisture balance is the major factor limiting plant and vegetation distributions," he said.

An associate professor, Ashby came to Southern in 1960. He holds a Ph.D. degree from the University of Chicago, and worked three years with the U.S. Forest Service at the California Institute of Technology. In 1954-55, he was a Fulbright Research Scholar at the University of Sydney, Australia.

Jobs Open For Spring, Summer

The Student Work Office reported today that they have openings for girls with experience in typing and shorthand.

Jobs also are available in many other areas for both male and female students interested in part time work. The Work Office has an abundance of unfilled jobs for both the remainder of Spring Term and also Summer Term.

All students interested should report to that office as soon as possible.

Dean Swartz To Give International Party

All international students have been invited to attend a party given by Willis G. Swartz, dean of the Graduate School, and Mrs. Swartz, Saturday.

The party will be given at the Swartz residence on Tower Hill Road. Transportation will be provided by bus which will leave from the University Center between 6:30 and 7 p.m.

Ninth Graders Invited To Apply For Summer German Course

Ninth grade students in southern Illinois with a yen for foreign languages have been invited to enroll in a free six-weeks beginning German course at SIU this summer.

SIU will accept about 20 students, who are now ninth graders or will be next year, as members of a demonstration class in conjunction with the third National Defense Education Act Summer Institute for Secondary Teachers of German.

Helmut Liedloff, assistant professor of foreign languages at SIU and director of the institute, said latest teaching methods will be used and the students frequently will use the University's modern languages laboratories.

The class is to begin June 26 and end Aug. 2. It will meet from 10 to 10:40 a.m. Monday through Friday, except on Thursday when it will continue to 11:20. Students will be expected to attend regularly, Liedloff said.
